HIGHLIGHTS

Bobcat permits only available online: If you want to trap for bobcat, you must first obtain a bobcat permit. You can purchase bobcat permits online at wildlife.utah.gov from Oct. 1–29, 2009 until 6 p.m. If you do not have access to a computer, you may call any Division office, and an employee will assist you with your purchase over the phone.

Fewer bobcat permits: This year, the Utah Wildlife Board has approved up to four bobcat permits per trapper.

Later start to bobcat season: This year, Utah's bobcat season will start on Nov. 25, 2009, a week later than it normally does. This change is necessary to meet the objectives listed in Utah's Bobcat Management Plan. To view the plan in its entirety, visit wildlife.utah.gov/furbearer/pdf/bobcat_plan.pdf.

Breakaway snares: All snares, except those set in water or with a loop size less than 3 inches in diameter, must be equipped with a breakaway lock that releases when more than 300 pounds of pressure is applied to the loop. The purpose of this new regulation is to reduce the possibility that nontarget species—such as deer, elk, bear and cougar—will get caught in snares. See page 12 for more information on traps and page 13 for suggestions on how to avoid trapping nontarget animals.

Checking traps after dark: A trapper on foot may use a flashlight to check traps after dark, and furbearers caught in these traps may be taken by shooting at any time, day or night. Taking furbearers by means other than trapping remains restricted to 30 minutes before sunrise until 30 minutes after sunset. Please read Methods of Take and Shooting Hours on page 15, and Spotlighting on page 17 for details and restrictions.

Bobcat permit/tag format: Bobcat temporary possession tags and jaw tags are attached to bobcat permits. For more information on how to attach these tags to a bobcat, please read the Tagging Bobcats section on page 10.

Don't lose your hunting and fishing privileges

If you commit a wildlife violation, you could lose the privilege of hunting and fishing in Utah. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources can suspend the license of anyone who knowingly, intentionally or recklessly violates wildlife laws. Your license can be suspended for a wildlife violation if:

- You are convicted.
- You plead guilty or no contest.
- You enter a plea in abeyance.

You will be notified of any action against your privilege after criminal proceedings conclude. And remember, if your license is suspended in Utah, you might not be permitted to hunt or fish in other states.

Obtain permanent tags: You may obtain permanent marten and bobcat tags—by appointment only—at any Division office. Marten tags will be available Oct. 5, 2009 through Feb. 11, 2010, and bobcat tags will be available Nov. 30, 2009 through Feb. 11, 2010. You can also obtain permanent tags at the Utah Trappers Association Fur Sale on Feb. 12, 2010 from 2–6 p.m. and Feb. 13, 2010 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Artificial cubby set: Up to 8 cubic inches of bait is allowed in specific types of artificial cubby sets this season. See the definition of an artificial cubby set on page 6.

Restrictions to protect river otters: In an effort to protect transplanted river otters, the middle section of the Provo River has been added to the list of areas with trapping restrictions. See Traps on page 12, and Beaver and Mink on pages 21–22 for details.

Accidental trapping of protected species: Black-footed ferret, lynx and wolf are protected species under the Endangered Species Act, and river otters are a state protected species. Accidental trapping or capture of these species must be reported to the Division within 48 hours.

Native American trust lands and national wildlife refuges: If you want to trap on Native American trust lands and national wildlife refuges in Utah, you should first check with the respective tribal authority or refuge manager.

Coyote hunting: Coyotes are not protected in Utah. They may be hunted without a license, year round.

Make a difference: You can get involved in the decision-making process regarding Utah wildlife management, rules and regulations by attending your local Regional Advisory Council (RAC) meetings. For more information on the RACs and schedules, visit wildlife.utah.gov/public_meetings.

Corrections: If errors are found in this guidebook after it is printed, the Division will correct them in the electronic copy that is posted online. Visit wildlife.utah.gov/guidebooks to view all of the Division's guidebooks and proclamations.

Protection from discrimination: The Division receives federal financial assistance from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the U.S. Department of the Interior and its bureaus prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability or sex. If you believe that you have been discriminated against in any program, activity or facility, or if you desire further information, please write to:

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
Office for Diversity and Civil Rights Programs—External Programs
4040 North Fairfax Drive, Suite 130
Arlington, VA 22203

Private lands: The Division cannot guarantee access to any private land. If you plan to hunt — or engage in any other wildlife-related activities — on private lands, you must obtain WRITTEN permission from the landowner or the landowner's authorized representative. To learn more, please see Trespass on page 20.

Division funding: The Division is mostly funded by the sale of hunting and fishing licenses and through federal aid made possible by an excise tax on the sale of firearms and other hunting- and fishing-related equipment.

Black-footed ferret, lynx and wolf are protected species under the Endangered Species Act, and river otters are a state protected species. Accidental trapping or capture of these species must be reported to the Division within 48 hours.

B. Traps

Utah Code § 23-13-4 & Utah Admin. Rule R657-11-10

- (1) All long spring, jump, or coil spring traps must have spacers on the jaws which leave an opening of at least 3/16 of an inch when the jaws are closed, except;
 - (a) rubber-padded jaw traps,
 - (b) traps with jaw spreads less than 4.25 inches, and
 - (c) traps that are completely submerged under water when set.

(2) All snares, except those set in water or with a loop size less than 3 inches in diameter, must be equipped with a breakaway lock device that will release when any force greater than 300 lbs. is applied to the loop. Breakaway snares must be fastened to an immovable object solidly secured to the ground. The use of drags is prohibited. (USDA/APHIS Wildlife Services employees in lawful performance of their official duties are exempted from the break away snare restriction.)

(3) On the middle section of the Provo River (between Jordanelle Dam and Deer Creek Reservoir), the Green River (between Flaming Gorge Dam and the Utah-Colorado state line), the Colorado River (between Utah-Colorado state line and Lake Powell), and the Escalante River (between Escalante and Lake Powell), trapping within 100 yards of either side of these rivers, including their tributaries from the confluences upstream ½ mile, is restricted to the following devices in an effort to protect river otters:

- (a) Nonlethal-set leg hold traps with a jaw spread less than 5 1/8 inches, and nonlethal-set padded leg hold traps. Drowning sets with these traps are prohibited.
 - (b) Body-gripping, killing-type traps with body-gripping area less than 30 square inches (i.e., 110 Conibear).

 - (d) Size 330, body-gripping, killing-type traps (i.e. Conibear) modified by replacing the standard V-trigger assembly with one top side-parallel trigger assembly, with the trigger placed within one inch of the side, or butted against the vertical turn in the Canadian bend (see figure on page 15).
- (4) A person may not disturb or remove any trapping device, except:

Avoiding nontarget species

The following recommendations from the Division and the Utah Trappers Association can help you avoid catching cougars, domestic animals and other nontarget species in traps set for bobcats and other furbearers.

1. Use traps with smaller jaw spreads. For example, a number 2 trap is big enough to catch bobcats, but the larger foot of a cougar may spring the trap without getting caught.
2. Avoid using 4-coiled traps. A 2-coiled trap is sufficient to hold bobcats and coyotes, but larger animals like cougars or domestic animals should be able to pull out of the trap.
3. Anchor foothold traps solidly to the ground and avoid using drags. A cougar or other large animal will have a better chance of pulling out of a trap that is solidly anchored.
4. When using snares, reduce the loop size and set it about 8 inches off the ground. A smaller loop size won't fit around a cougar's head, and if the loop is set low, it will likely miss cougars' heads and those of other large non-target and domestic animals.
5. If you catch a cougar kitten, remove traps from the area to avoid catching additional kittens.
6. If you know that cougars are in a particular area, find another place to trap. Cougars usually displace bobcats from areas that they frequent.
7. Avoid setting traps near trails that are frequently used by people and dogs during the trapping season.
8. Avoid using baits that are likely to attract domestic dogs or other non-target species.

(c) as provided in Subsection (6).

(5) A person may not kill or remove wildlife caught in any trapping device, except:

- (a) a person who possesses a valid, current furbearer license, the appropriate permits or tags, and who has been issued a trapper registration number, which is permanently marked or affixed to the trapping device; or
- (b) as provided in Subsection (6).

(6) A person, other than the owner, may possess, disturb or remove a trapping device; or possess, kill or remove wildlife caught in a trapping device provided:

- (a) the person possesses a valid, current furbearer license, the appropriate permits or tags; and
- (b) has obtained written authorization from the owner of the trapping device stating the following:
 - (i) date written authorization was obtained;
 - (ii) name and address of the owner;
 - (iii) owner's trap registration number;
 - (iv) the name of the individual being given authorization;
 - (v) signature of owner.

(c) Nothing in this section allows a person to use the license, tag or permit of another person.

(7) The owner of any trapping device providing written authorization to another person under Subsection (6) shall be strictly liable for any violations of this proclamation resulting from the use of the trapping device by the authorized person.

(8) The owner of any trapping device, providing written authorization to another person under Subsection (6), must keep a record of all persons obtaining written authorization and furnish a copy of the record upon request from a conservation officer.

(9)(a) A person may not set any trap or trapping device on posted private property without the landowner's permission.

(b) Any trap or trapping device set on posted property without the owner's permission may be sprung by the landowner.

(c) Conservation officers should be informed

Trappers Association Reward Program

Every year, Utah trappers lose hundreds of traps to thieves. The Utah Trappers Association is offering a reward, up to $500, for individuals who report trap theft to the Division, which results in a successful prosecution. Anyone who sees traps being stolen is encouraged to report it through the Division's poaching hotline at 1-800-662-DEER (3337).

If you encounter traps while in the outdoors, you have a legal obligation to respect that private property. At the same time, trappers have an ethical obligation not to set traps in areas where they are likely to be encountered by the general public or their pets.

(12) All traps and trapping devices must be checked and animals removed at least once every 48 hours, except;

- (a) killing traps striking dorso-ventrally,
- (b) drowning sets, and
- (c) lethal snares that are set to capture on the neck, that have a nonrelaxing lock, without a stop, and are anchored to an immoveable object; which must be checked every 96 hours.

(13) A person may not transport or possess live protected wildlife. Any animal found in a trap or trapping device must be killed or released immediately by the trapper.

C. Use of Bait

Utah Admin. Rule R657-11-11

- enter upon privately owned land that is cultivated or properly posted without the permission of the owner or person in charge of the land;
- refuse to immediately leave the private land if requested to do so by the owner or person in charge; or
- obstruct any entrance or exit to private land.

"Cultivated land" is land that is readily identifiable as land whose soil is loosened or broken up for the raising of crops, land used for the raising of crops, or a pasture that is artificially irrigated.

"Permission" means WRITTEN authorization from the owner or person in charge to enter upon private land that is cultivated or properly posted. Permission must include:

- the signature of the owner or person in charge;

- the name of the person being given permission;
- the appropriate dates; and
- a general description of the land.

“Properly posted” means that “No Trespassing” signs or a minimum of 100 square inches of bright yellow, bright orange or fluorescent paint are displayed at all corners, fishing streams crossing property lines, roads, gates and rights-of-way entering the land. If metal fence posts are used, the entire exterior side must be painted.

You may not post private property you do not own or legally control or land that is open to the public as provided by Utah Code § 23-21-4.

Kit fox voluntary release

The Division encourages trappers to release all kit fox unharmed and continue to trap coyotes in desert regions of the state. Kit fox are native to the arid regions of Utah and are on Utah's sensitive species list. There are concerns that competition with coyotes has forced these small canids into sub-optimal habitat. Division biologists are concerned that an increased distribution of artificial water sources has allowed coyotes to expand their distribution into arid regions, which may negatively impact kit fox populations through displacement and resource competition.

U.S. Forest Service Roads 058, 072, 017, and 077 commonly known as the "North Slope Road"; and

- that part of Echo Creek proper upstream from its confluence with the Weber River along I-80 to the top of Wasatch.
